HIGH RENT FOR GOOD LIGHT

Diamond Dealers Spare No Expense to Show Their Gems. Diamond cutting is probably the only manufacturing industry in New York that can afford a location in the heart, of the financial district. The workshop here is said to be superior to that of the Amsterdam and Antwerp factories in the mathematical accuracy with which the facets of large stones are cut. New York, consequently, sends cut stones to Europe, besides supplying the United States. The bulk of the New York diamond trade, including a considerable amount of the cutting, is done in Maiden lane, between Broadway and Nassau street, a single block. Most of the dealers occupy offices in modern skyscrapers. To show their cems they need a clear, steady light, which in the case of natural light is afforded only by a northern exposure; bence, offices on the lower side of Malden lane cost 20 to 25 per cent more than offices on the upper

The difference in rent would be still greater but for the fact that courts admitting northern light are provided in the buildings that face the south, Artificial light may also be used.

A pleasant water drink is grape Juice, which can be easily made at home for very much less than is charged in the shops. To make a drink that will keep for two years in a dark place add one quart of water to three quarts of picked grapes and cook until the grapes are broken up. Strain twice, once through cheesecloth and once through flannel. Add sufficient sugar and boll, being careful not to make too sweet a sirup. One or two cupfuls of sugar to two gallons of juice should suffice, according to the flavor of the fruit. Bottle it hot and seal securely. A mixture of two or more kinds of grapes gives the best result, Delaware and Ningara, and Catawba, Niagara and Concord being excellent combinations. A quart can be made for as low as 10 cents if the fruit is bought when it is at bottom price and preserved quickly.-New

The French war department is test-ing a new quick firing mountain gun for twe by the Alpine regiments and in the colonies. The gun hitherto in use bus many drawbacks. Among others, the recoil has to be controlled by ropes held by men, and even with these there are frequent mishaps that are only rectified by much labor. The new gun la free from these disadvantages. There is an automatic check action controlling the recoil, and the gun is able to discharge twenty-three shots a minute without its position being at all affected. Its range is 5,000 yards against 3,000 yards for the present gun. The batteries, however, will have to be of four or five guns only, as four mules are needed for transport instead of three. In addition to this, the increased rapidity of fire will necessitate a larger supply of munitions.
